FAD OF THE TEDDY BEAR

CAIRO MERCHANTS COULD HAVE REAPED A HARVEST AT CHRISTMAS TIME.

IF THEY'D HAD 'EM

The Origin of the Craze—What Was An Amusing Toy For Children Has Been Adopted By Foolish Women As A Fad.

Cairo merchants were besieged at Christmas time with requests for Teddy Bears. Everybody wanted to give the small boy and girl in his family one of these cutest of all toys.
The fad of carrying "Teddy Bears" has become almost national. It is not confined to the children but the "400" of New York and the fashionable women of other cities cultivate the fad.

The Teddy Bear originated with an old German frau, Mrs. Marguerite Stief, by name, who made a living by stuffing imitation wild animals and selling them. She had a small "factory" a few miles from Dresden, and for the last fifteen years has produced most of them seen in shops. It was an accident she manufactured the bear, never dreaming of the popularity it was to enjoy. But a wise American dealer saw the possibilities in the toy and buying her stock of them he put them on the market at the time President Roosevelt was taking one of his famous hunts in the Rockies. The American dealer named them "Teddy Bears" and the fad of carrying them at once caught the fashionable women. Today Frau Stief is running a large factory devoted entirely to the manufacture of bears and employing all the women and children she can secure. Recently several American manufacturers have essayed to make the bears, but even with this added source of supply it is impossible to supply the demand.

Some of the ultra fashionable women of New York, it is said, appear on the streets or in their automobiles with bejeweled "Teddies" whose collars and clothing are worth a small fortune, and there are constant changes and new "bear models" are connected by ingenious dress makers and consumers. Some of the silly owners of these toys have numerous changes for their bears, regulating the clothing worn by the season or weather, and some of them dress the bears to match their own gorgeous raiment.

Atlantic City, it is claimed, is the birthplace of the Teddy Bear craze.
As the story goes a fashionable young couple were walking down the board walk one day and stopped to admire the display in a toy shop. The young lady especially admired a huge Teddy bear, fully four feet tall. The young man offered to buy it for her if she would carry it in her arms along the walk. She eagerly consented, and it was not long until every fashionable woman at Atlantic City was carrying one of the plush toys.

As silly and utterly absurd as is the Teddy bear craze, when pursued by children of a larger growth, it has one redeeming feature. It has supplanted the poodle dog and has driven the pampered toy spaniel out of the laps of the fool fashionable women.

ON THE RIVERS

Cache River Sending Out Record-Breaking Flood—General Conditions Not Alarming.

Cache creek is booming in a way never before known as also Clear creek and Big creek. The water which has fallen inland fills the banks to overflowing and overcomes the flood of the Ohio which ordinarily backs up the water in these small streams.
All the low farming country not protected by levees is under water and much damage and inconvenience are caused.

The general conditions in the Ohio were not so alarming yesterday for those protected by good levees, although the rains of the last two days have set the upper Ohio to rising again. Pittsburg reported a rise of 1.8 feet yesterday morning. Parkersburg 2.7, feet and Cincinnati 0.9. The Wabash is also still rising.

General and Local Notes.

The river marked 42.6 feet on the Cairo gauge last evening, showing a rise of 0.4 of a foot in 24 hours. One year ago it was 31.8 feet.

The Dick Fowler was in and out yesterday on good time. She is rescuing some corn, but finds difficulty in making some of the landings because of the high water.

The heavy drift in the river dragged the Halliday Sand digger from its moorings and it was necessary to tow it to the bank at the Illinois Central incline. Capt. Spencer, with the Thebes, was pulling at the thing a good part of Tuesday night.

The Pacific No. 2, brought up some lumber yesterday.

The Stacker Lee got away all right Tuesday evening. She didn't have the trouble she expected to have with coal heavers.

The Ford Herold's repeated tooting before leaving for Memphis wasn't because of any distress she was in.
She wanted the tug and some coal.

The Peters Lee was delayed in her departure from Memphis for Cairo and Cincinnati. She left that port yesterday. Capt. Irwin in command.

Yesterday's River Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville, will probably continue falling during the next two or three days. At Mt. Vernon not much change during the next 24 to 36 hours, then fall. At Paducah, will commence falling tonight or Thursday. At Cairo will continue rising during the next 24 to 36 hours, come to a stand at about 43 feet, and remain nearly stationary for a day or two.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, will continue falling.

The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo no much change during the next 36 hours.

The Wabash at Mt. Carmel, will continue rising during the next 36 hours.

P. H. SMYTH.

Local Forecaster.

The Williams Double Tripped.

Yesterday's Memphis Commercial Appeal: On account of the swift current in the river at Hopefield point the tugboat Joe B. Williams that arrived Monday evening from New Orleans had to break up her tow and double trip it to the coal fleet, seven miles above the city, and got away yesterday afternoon for the Ohio river with her big tow.

River Improvement in Congress.

A Washington D. C. dispatch says: Representative Ellis forced consideration of the Missouri river and acceptance of the proposal to appropriate $400,000 to remove the snags from the river. Effort was made to prevent holding any new hearings, and a resolution was adopted providing that no hearings involving local improvements solely shall be granted.
But it was expressly stipulated that it shall not apply to the agreement to hear the delegation of St. Louisans in reference to the deep waterway, which will be taken up in the regular order in about a week or ten days. The board of engineers for rivers and harbors has not yet submitted to the committee its report on deep waterways project.

KIDNAPPERS ATTEMPT TO LURE LITTLE GIRLS

Two Dastardly Efforts Made In Cairo by Strangers--Both Made Their Escape--Police Notified In One Case

A dastardly attempt at kidnapping was made by an unknown man in Cairo late Tuesday afternoon, the story of which has just been made public.

Helen Scott, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Scott, of 420 Eight street, while playing on the sidewalk in front of her home was accosted by a white man who asked the child if she would go with him.
The little one refused and he then asked her to show him where Mrs.
Blank lived, giving a name that is unknown in that neighborhood. He then took the child in his arms and walked hurriedly out, Eighth street to the Mobile & Ohio railroad yards.
The child screamed as he walked away with her and she slapped her according to the little girl's story.

A freight car was standing on the track in the yards and the kidnaper, finding that the doors were closed, seized the child down on the ground while he opened the door. Instinctively, the little one realized her danger and she immediately ran across another track toward home. As if providential, he found the man saw her escaping, a switch engine and cars backed down on the latter track, preventing the villain from pursuing the child who ran home in great fright and told her mother of her escape. The little girl's clothing was muddy as the result of being placed on the ground in the railroad yards.

The kidnaper is described by the child as being a "bad looking man" with red hair and whiskers.

The family did not report the matter to the police, hence no attempt has been made to catch the guilty party who it is probable is many miles from Cairo by this time.

Mr. Scott, the child's father, is employed by the Carey-Halliday Lumber company. The family naturally were much exercised over the narrow escape of the child from an awful fate.

BABY DESERTED BY HIS MOTHER AT BRIDGE JUNCTION

Child Given Into Care of Miss Angie Webb of Martin, Tenn, a Passenger on Train-- Taken to Children's Home

A beautiful little boy baby aged about four months was deserted by his mother at Bridge Junction yesterday and now, by the aid of kind, new friends is being cared for at the Children's Home by the matron, Mrs.
Mollie Edeline. The child was received at the home about 5 o'clock last evening.

The story is a pathetic one yet not without its ludicrous features. On the Illinois Central fast train from the south arriving at Bridge Junction about noon yesterday, there was on board Miss Angie Webb of Martin, Tenn., and a woman whose name is not known who had with her a beautiful baby. Miss Webb got off at Bridge Junction to take the transfer train into Cairo and having admired the child on the train and an acquaintance having recently asked the woman with the baby where she was going, the woman replied that she too, was going to Cairo and the three started for the transfer train. As Miss Webb was about to get aboard, the woman hurriedly said to her "Here will you please take the baby while I go back into the other train and get something I left there." Miss Webb, of course was obliging and taking the baby in her arms, she got into the train, also receiving from the porter a basket of clothes the woman had banded to him.

There was some delay at the Junction and the woman had ample time to get off the other train and onto the transfer train, but soon both trains pulled out and the mother failed to appear.

Miss Webb grew very uneasy but hoped against hope, on the way into Cairo that the woman would put in appearance. On arriving at the station realizing her plight, she told some passengers her story and after some time elapsed she was advised to go to the Blue Front restaurant where Mr. Guy P. Elchenberger, the proprietor after hearing of her predicament telephoned to Mr. M. E. Escherday one of Cairo's philanthropic citizens whose special charity is toward little children.

Mr. Eschertday went to the relief of the two who so suddenly and strangely had been thrust upon each other's society and at once decided that the little one should be taken to the Children's Home.

Miss Webb was exceedingly happy to be relieved of her embarrassing situation. To Mr. Eschertday she gave a meagre description of the child's mother, saying that the woman had hair of a reddish shade and was rather young.

Mr. Eschertday carried the baby to the home going there in a street car and en route the little fellow attracted much admiring attention and expressions of commiseration over his sad story. At the home the basket left by the mother was opened and in has elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

Huette, Jr.

Palmer.

foot.

membership which will be acted upon soon.

Delegates to the Central Labor Union were elected. They are Henry Levy, John Ehlman and Samuel Green.

Theaterium.

Moving pictures for tonight's bill goes to the party scenes in Belgium illustrated song, "Only a Message From Home, Sweet Home."

It was found the baby's clothing there being nothing else in the way of garments in it, which is taken as an indication that the mother had premeditated the desertion of her child. There was also a bottle containing food, and a quantity of the food unprepared.

Mrs. Edeline, the matron, was enthusiastic over the child and the lonely plight of the little one appealed to her motherly heart. She told The Bulletin last night that she would care for the little child cheerfully so long as it is an inmate of the home.

The baby is a boy with dark hair and blue eyes, plump and pretty. He evidently has had good care for the child is in excellent physical condition. He was garbed in a white dress and wore a white shirt, a white flannel skirt, white albatross neck and white woven cap. The clothing in the basket was neat but simple.

It was suggested that the mother might have remained on the other train longer than she had expected to and that she might have been carried away against her intention but as no word had been received from her at a late hour last night the natural conclusion is that she heartlessly deserted her own child.

The baby has been named Webb Martin in honor of Miss Webb, its benefactor and the town where she resides. Miss Webb was met here by friends later and continued her journey to other points. She doubtless will never forget her visit to Cairo.

address on Modern Woodmanism in which he enumerated the great benefits to be derived from membership in the order which has excellent insurance features. He enjoined upon the members present the sacred duty each owed to his wife and children, to leave them, in case of death equipped with funds to keep the wolf from the door. Mr. Haybarger stated that the paid out over $54,000,000 in insurance
